Understanding Diabetes: A Growing Concern

Diabetes is a chronic condition characterized by high blood sugar levels due to inadequate insulin production, resistance to insulin, or both. The condition is classified into two primary types:

- Type 1 Diabetes: An autoimmune condition where the body attacks insulin-producing cells.
- Type 2 Diabetes: The most common type, often linked to lifestyle factors like obesity and physical inactivity.

Uncontrolled diabetes can lead to complications such as heart disease, kidney failure, nerve damage, and vision problems. Early diagnosis and timely intervention by a skilled blood sugar doctor are essential to prevent these outcomes.
